YONES MAHERI
FRONT-END DEVELOPER

PROFILE

I am a passionate and dedicated Front End developer with approximately one year of practical experience. Currently pursuing a degree in Software Engineering, I have a strong focus on Front End development and actively broaden my expertise in Back End technologies. I am proficient in using tools like Formik and Yup for form validation, and React Query for efficient API request management. Additionally, I have hands-on experience with Express.js and Sequelize, as well as working with PostgreSQL databases, further enhancing my ability to contribute to full-stack projects.

EXPERIENCE

1-HOORAKHSH STUDIOS – WEBSITE TECHNICAL SUPPORT
2023 - 2024

I started my career as a technical support intern at Hoorakhsh Company, where I helped maintain several WordPress websites. I resolved plugin and theme issues, improved site performance, and handled hosting tasks like backups and domain setup using cPanel. This experience gave me a strong foundation in website support and hosting.

2-FREELANCER – FRONT-END DEVELOPER
2024 - PRESENT

After my internship, I started working as a freelance frontend developer with different teams. I've been involved in building and maintaining web applications using modern technologies, primarily React and Next.js. This experience has helped me improve my skills in component-based architecture, API integration, and responsive UI design while collaborating in real-world development environments.
